1990-12-28	1990-12-28	https://www.nytimes.com/1990/12/28/arts/restaurants-470290.html	Restaurants	False	By Marian Burros Lp>In the Early 1980'S, the Only Restaurants Worth Being Seen In Were French. Then Along Came the New American Cooking, and It Swept the French, If Not Away, At Least Into A Corner. By the End of the Decade, Italian Had Made Everything Else Seem Obsolete. During This Period, It Was As If Other Kinds of Restaurant Cooking Had Ceased To Exist. One of the Few Exceptions Included Upscale Chinese Places Like Fu'S and the Shun Lee Group, Which Achieved Some Celebrity. Other Ethnic Restaurants Simply Chugged Along, Providing Places To Go When You Didn'T Need To Be Seen. Thai House Cafe, Which Opened In 1987, Was Exactly the Wrong Kind of Restaurant For the 80'S. So It Was Easy For It To Escape Notice Except Among Aficionados of Thai Cooking. Now That Getting Value For Money Is More Important Than Being Seated At the Place of the Moment, Perhaps Thai House Will Be Discovered. It Has Been Waiting Patiently For Almost Four Years. It Has All the 1990'S Requirements: Delicious Exotic Food, Hardly Any Decor Except For A Trellis Or Two, Modest Prices -- the Most Expensive Item On the Menu Is $10.95 -- and A Location That Gives New Meaning To the Expression (YOU CAN'T GET THERE FROM HERE.)	1990-12-31	TX 2-965168
